Unique Newspaper.

J. C. Owens, publisher of the Burnside Item, is an interesting editor of a urige newspaper. Burnside was formerly Point Burnside, and is in Pulaski county on the Southern Railroad at a point where it crosses the Cumberland river. The town, noted principally as a country produce depot and a saw mill headquarters, has a population of 800 or more.

One of the interesting features of the Item is that it is printed on the editor's farm, a mile and a half up the river from Burnside. The Item is a bright and newsy sheet, just the size of the TIMES and all home print. It is issued weekly.

About once a week editor Owens mounts his horse or harnesses his skiff and drops down to Burnside, picks up all the local news and neighborhood gossip, gets from the postoffice a handful of letters from correspondents in adjacent villages, returns to his farm and proceeds to publish one of the best printed papers in the State. Editor Owens is not bothered with strikes. "We," he says, "carry on farming, raise stock, and breed fancy fowls as a side line. Before we started the paper we operated incubators and raised large numbers of fowls for the market. 'We' means wife, two children and myself. Wife is a good compositor, oldest daughter (15) is rapid and accurate, and the five-year-old is a born printer, farmer and chicken raiser.

The paper was established four years ago and has never missed an issue, never printed less than 800 paper, and now has a circulation of over 1500 copies each week.

The Richest Farmer.

David Rankin, of Talkio, Mo., who is said to be the richest farmer in the world, made his beginning with no other capital than a horse. This he sold for $52, invested the money in calves, and bought an eighty acre farm. He is now, at the age of seventy-four, tall, athletic and raw-boned, with gray hair and beard and keen blue eyes. He owns 23,000 acres of land, worth from $50 to $100 per acre.

How Much.

"I have made a thousand dollars during the last three months," said a saloon-keeper boastfully to a crowd of his townsmen—"You have made more than that," quietly remarked a listener—"Waat is that?"—"You have made wretched homes—women and children poor and sick and weary of life. You have made my two sons drunkards," continued the speaker with trembling earnestness. "You made the younger of the two so drunk that he fell and injured himself for life. You have made their mother a broken hearted woman. Oh, yes you have made much—more than I could recon up—but you'll get the full account some day; you'll get it some day!"—Exchange.

Notice of First Meeting of Creditors.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE DISTRICT OF KENTUCKY IN BANKRUPTCY.

IN THE MATTER OF } ACHILLES D. HOWELL } IN BANKRUPTCY.
ELL BANKRUPT.

To the creditors of Achilles D. Howell, Miller's Creek in the county of Estill and district aforesaid, a bankrupt:

Notice is hereby given that on the 3rd day of November, 1899, the said Achilles D. Howell was duly adjudged a bankrupt, and that the first meeting of his creditors will be held at Mt. Sterling, Ky., at my office on the 22nd day of November, 1899, at 12 o'clock, noon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

A. T. WOOD,

Referee in Bankruptcy.

Nov. 8, 1899.

The Country Editor.

Verily, the life of the country editor is a path of thorns.

His bread is promises and his meat is disappointment.

His creditor chaseth him by day and the devil grineth at him in his dreams by night.

One subscription in wood and behold it is rotten and soggy and short of measure.

His "exchanges" are waded into in a most merciless manner and he is daresome to grunt.

He whoopeth up the country politician, who gets elected and knoweth him no more.

He puffeth the church fair gratis and then attendeth it ann payeth his quater and receiveth his two oysters.

He boometh his town and all things therein and yet receiveth no support and is a prophet without honor in his own country.

Two young people marry and he giveth them a great puff, they goeth to housekeeping and taketh not his paper.

Yea, he is bound with woe and his days are full of grief and trouble and vexation.

But sorrow endureth only for a night and joy cometh in the morning.

He ploddeth along and endureth in patience, and it is written that he will receive his reward at the judgment.

And we believe it. One of them.—Exchange.

Collector John W. Yerkes has announced himself a Republican candidate for United States Senate. This is rather unexpected to both parties.

In Pennsylvania fifty-nine firms are engaged in the manufacture of paper, operating sixty-five mills. The capital invested amounts to $12,000,000, and the annual value of the product is $6,800,000.

Gen. Fitzhugh Lee says the condition of the Cubans is steadily improving; that life and property are secure, the people are tractable and quiet, and the industrial situation is growing better.

We have profound sympathy for the old farmer who, after winding his clock for many years every night learned that it was an eight day clock. A man said to us one day: "I shaved for thirty years with a half dull razor, and you know what that means, until one day lately I learned how to strop it to a keen edge." What worlds of toil and oceans of sweat the human race has gone through with because men were so slow in learning how to open trottles and press bettons! What superstitions, prejudices, persecutions agonies and horrors of all kinds, the inhabitants of Asia, Europe and America and the islands of the sea have been guilty of because of the lack of a little wisdom, a little larger view! How we are yet divided and frustrated, weakened and held back, all for the lack of another ray or two of light.

Tea in South Carolina.

The Agricultural reports show great satisfaction with the government's experience with tea-raising in South Carolina and tobacco raising on the frost-bitten orange orchards of Florida. The latter is equal to Cuba's best production.

C. A. Snow & Co., Patent Lawyers, opposite the United States Patent Office, Washington, D. C., who have actual clients in every city and town of the United States and Canada, report that never before in their 25 years practice has the work of the office been so well up to date. They claim that patents can now be procured in less than half the time formerly required.

A North Georgia farmer, who was possessed of some means, entered the office of his county paper and asked for the editor. The farmer was accompanied by his son, a youth of seventeen years—and as soon as the editor, who was in his secret sanctum, was informed that his visitors were not bill collectors, he came forward and shook hands.

"I came to get some information," exclaimed the farmer.

"Certainly," said the editor, "and you came to the right place. Be seated."

The farmer sat on one end of the table his son sat on the floor.

"This boy of mine," he said

"wants to go into the literary business, and I thought you'd know whether there was money in it or not. It's a good business—ain't it?"

"Why—yes," said the editor, after some little hesitation. "I've been in it myself for fifteen years, and see where I've got to."

The farmer eyed him from head to foot, glanced all around the poorly furnished office, surveyed the editor once more, then turning to his son, who was still on the floor, said:

"Git up, John, and go home an' go back to plowin'!"—Exchange.

Is war a failure? will be one of the leading questions of the incoming century, says an exchange.

The official trial of the battleship Kentucky will take place off the coast of Massachusetts November 23.

According to estimate Uncle Sam will require something like 1,000 recruits each month to fill vacancies in the army.

Gen. Leonard Wood, commander of the Santiago province in Cuba, finds things moving along so smoothly that he has recommended the withdrawal of all the United States troops in the provinces, except two squadrons of cavalry and two battalions of infantry.

Postmaster General Smith has sent notices to postmasters asking them to, in some feasible way, call the attention of their patrons to the necessity of putting the names of the company, regiment and etc on the mail addressed to soldiers at Manila. Hundreds of letters lie undelivered on this account.

Argument before the United States Supreme Court was begun Nov. 8, in the test case brought to fix the responsibility in the matter of the payment of war revenue taxes upon packages sent by express. The Merchants' Association, of New York, are standing the expense of bringing the suit. It is against the Adams Express Company, and quite an array of council are on both sides. No matter how the case is decided, there is nothing to prevent the express companies from increasing their rates to meet the war tax, just as telegraph companies have done all along, should the case be decided against the express people.

Whatever else the Cubans may be slow in learning, they seem to take naturally to the ways of our politicians, especially as regards reluctance to give up a public salary. Gen. Rius Rivera recently dismissed from position of Civil Governor of the province of Havana, is on his way to Havana, is on his way to Washington to present a personal protest to the President against his removal from office. He would have saved money by administration to support the military authorities in Cuba, Porto Rico, and the Philippines in all their administrative acts.

The proposed enactment of a law by Congress providing for the establishment of a parcel system in the postal service is receiving considerable attention as the Congressional session draws near. The latest development in favor of the delivery of merchandise, now in the hands of the express companies, by means of a reduction in the present rate for fourth-class mail matter, and increase in the maximum weight limit to eight or eleven pounds, is the enthusiastic support of the National Association of Manufacturers, one of the most influential commercial organization in the world. The officials of the Postoffice Department have been carefully considering the matter, and it is said that the matter may be presented to both Houses early in the session.

As the time for the reassembling of Congress approaches, interest increases relative to the probable fate of Roberts, of Utah, the seating of whom will be opposed on the ground of polygamy. The crusade against Roberts is making itself felt among members of the House. Nearly every man whose name is on the Congressional list as a member of the next House has been overwhelmed with petitions and protests. Judge John A. Barham, of California, one of the first members to reach Washington says that he has received 50,000 petitions during the past summer asking for the expulsion of Roberts, and in addition has been visited by hundreds of ministers and others interested in the subject.

The wife of Representative Joy, of Missouri, has adopted a novel plan of campaign against Roberts. She has prepared petitions for the signature of wives of Representatives and has sent them by mail to their addresses. She is now in Washington and in an interview stated that she believed her plan would be the most efficacious way to influence the members of the House. Roberts has not yet arrived on the scene, but it is known that he will fight any attempt to unseat or expel him.

Young men should remember That it takes more than muscle to make a man.

That bigness is not greatness. That it requires pluck to be patient.

That selfishness is the most unmanly thing in the world.

That consideration for mother and sister does more to mark a gentleman than the kind of necktie he wears.

That piety is not priggishness. That the only whole man is the holy man.

That to follow the crowd is a confession of weakness.

That street corners are a poor college.

That one real friend is worth a score of mere acquaintances.

That to be afraid of one's noblest self is greatest cowardice.

That it is never too soon to begin the business of making a man out of one's self.

That what is put into the brain today will be taken out of it ten years hence.

That the only manliness worth possessing is shown in the life of the Son of man.—Ex.

An Old-Fashioned Girl.

She can peel and boil potatoes, make salad of tomatoes, but she doesn't know a Latin noun from Greek.

And so well she cooks a chicken that your appetite would quicken, but she cannot tell modern from antique.

She knows how to set a table and make order out of bable, bable, but she doesn't know Euripides from Kant.

Once at making pie I caught her—Jove! an expert must have taught her—but she doesn't know true eloquence from rant.

She has a firm conviction one ought only to read fiction, and she doesn't care for science one bit.

And the way she makes her bonnets sure is worth a thousand sonnets, but she doesn't yearn for "culture," not a whit.

She can make her wraps and dresses, till a fellow fast confesses, that there's not another maiden half so sweet.

She's immersed in home completely, where she keeps all things so neatly, but from Browning not a line can she repeat.

Well, in fact, she's just a woman, gentle, lovable and human, and her faults she is quite willing to admit.

'Twere foolish to have tarried, so we went off and got married, and I tell you I am mighty glad of it.—Ex.

The Farm Journal is unlike any other paper; for one thing it prints no quack medical advertisements; for another it takes five-years subscriptions and gets the paper to its subscribers the full time if they are anywhere on this planet, even if they move two or three times; if they die their heirs get it. Now we are going to send the Farm Journal for the balance of 1899, and all of 1900, 1901, 1902 and 1903, nearly five years, to every advance paying subscriber to the Times, but better speak quick, as we have only a limited number Farm Journals to offer on these terms.

A ragged specimen of the genus of the hobo called at a farm house recently and, with a bow that would have put Chesterfield to shame, intimated that he had, by a singular concatenation of events, missed his luncheon. He was told that his wants would be supplied, also that there would be a wood-saw chorus to the dinner plate overture. The cook left him at the table alone in his glory. On her return, she found that he had left the table, but not much else except a neat visiting card bearing these words:

"Just tell them that you saw me, but you didn't see me saw."

Quite a number are attending the national fox hunt at Irvine this week.

NOVEMBER.

They say that November is cold and bleak.

With only a bluster and roar,
Topping down chimneys and shaking
the house,

And rattling the blinds and the door.
That he's good for nothing under the sun;

But freezes and pinches and kills
Whatever he touches, seeking his prey
In the valleys and on the hills.

I'm noisy, I know, and perhaps I am
A blustering boy as they say;
But in spite of all my terrible ways,
Don't I bring you Thanksgiving Day?

Don't I make the coasting on the hills?
Don't I bring you every year Rosy-cheeked apples, and pop-corn and nuts?

Don't I whisper a Christmas cheer?
I am trying my best to do what I can,
And to give far more than I take
Of everything good; and I want you all
To leave me for Thanksgiving sake.

A friend in need is a friend indeed.
That is exactly what Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is. It is the mothhusky cough, and labored breath-sort of the youth or adult when he has "caught cold" and there is coughing and irritation of the muallays the irritation and cures the cold. For sale by J. W. Dawson &

Chamberlain's Pain Balm Cures Others, Why Not You?

My wife has been using Chamberlain's Pain Balm, with good results, for a lame shoulder that has pained her continually for nine years. We have tried all kinds of medicines and doctors without receiving any benefit from any of them. One day we saw an advertisement of this medicine and thought of trying it, which we did with the best of satisfaction. She has used only one bottle and her shoulder is almost well.—ALFRED L.

During the winter of 1897 Mr.
James Reed, one of the leading citizens and merchants of Clay, Clay Co., W. Va., struck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniment and two and a half gallons of whisky in bathing it, but nothing gave any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and he believes that had he not used this remedy his leg would have had to be amputated. Pain Balm is unequalled for sprains, bruises and rheumatism. For sale by J. W.

Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, for having put on the market

Texas. There are many thousands of mothers whose children have been saved from attacks of dysentery and cholera infantum who must also feel thankful. It is for sale by J. W. Dawson & Bro.,

Lancaster took a vote on the waterworks question at the re-

252 for and 19 against the propo-begin at once.

The election of State officers is still in doubt with both parties claiming the victory.

The Farm Journal is unlike any other paper; for one thing it prints no quack medical advertisements; for another it takes five-years subscriptions and gets the paper to its subscribers the full time if they are anywhere on this planet, even if they move two or three times; if they die their heirs get it. Now we are going to send the Farm Journal for the balance of 1899, and all of 1900, 1901, 1902 and 1903, nearly five years, to every advance paying subscriber to the TIMES, but better speak quick, as we have only a limited number Farm Journals to offer on these terms.

$650 TO $1200 A YEAR.

We want reliable and energetic men and women in each State to travel and appoint agents; salary $650 to $1200 a year and expenses, guaranteed and paid weekly; no experience required, we instruct you. Another One Gone.

On returning from the barn early one morning he found his wife in tears.

"What's her cryin' about, Melissy?" he inquired.

"Nuther—one—uv our darters wuz stole las' night," she sobbed.

"The red-headed un," he asked, laconically.

"Yes—pore Mag—she was the best gal—"

"Bob Scuttles?"

"Uv course; hasn't bin no other feller waitin' on her. Ain't you goin' to pursue after 'em and arrest 'em?"

"Uv course not," he replied, sternly. "I'm not under no obligations to help Bob Scuttles out uv no difficulty. Let him go ahead and work out his sentence, same's I've ben a-doin' fur the las' forty years."

"As every shoe manufactory has a secret stamp code of its own, and there is, therefore, no possibility of the general public learning more than that such codes exist, I may as well tell you that the vanity of women customers is at the bottom of the queer characters. You'd be surprised to know how many women there are who imagine they wear a no. 3 shoe, when, in reality, their size is a couple of figures larger. A shoe salesman who understands his business can tell precisely the number of shoe a woman customer wears at a glance. But as often as not, a woman whose foot is a number 5, calls for a couple smaller sizes, and the mysterious stamped hieroglyph scheme was devised for the purpose of encouraging her in the belief that her foot is a couple of sizes smaller than it really measures.

The man who lives next door to an amateur comet player knows all about the horn of plenty.

C. A. Snow & Co., Patent Lawyers, opposite the United States Patent Office, Washington, D. C., who have actual clients in every city and town of the United States and Canada, report that never before in their 25 years practice has the work of the office been so well up to date. They claim that patents can now be procured in less than half the time formerly required.

ARE YOU A DEMOCRAT?

An old adage reads: "There is a place for everything," and for everything in its place, the LOUISVILLE DISPATCH should find a place in the home of every DEMOCRAT in the SUNNY SOUTH. The Dispatch is the people's paper, owned by the people, and is always ready to fight for the cause of the people. IT STANDS SQUARELY ON THE CHICAGO PLATFORM, without the aid or consent of the Gold Bug Monopolies, and a fair comparison of its news service (now being furnished over leased wires by the New York Sun, the Chicago Inter Ocean and the Northern Press Association) with that of any other paper, will fully verify its merit. "If you see it in the Dispatch it's so, and if it's so it is always in the Dispatch."

The Dispatch also has a staff of over 300 active correspondents in the South, and will POSITIVELY GUARANTEE MORE THAN DOUBLE THE SOUTHERN NEWS of any other Louisville paper. Get the Dispatch; it gives the news and tells the truth about it.

Daily, 8 pages; Sunday, 24 pages; Week-ly, 8 pages. We club with the Weekly Dispatch at the remarkably low price of 75 Cents.
